Forest Schools at Overview

Forest School can be used as a back drop for curriculum based learning and experiences. Forest School also has many wonderful benefits: collaboration, resilience, equality, compassion, creativity and innovation and exploration. The environment itself offers the children to develop many skills as well as offering up challenge: walking on uneven terrain, tree-climbing, pond dipping, negotiating space (around nettles/ brambles), balancing on logs, tree swings, camp fire and cooking and using different tools.
