

Intent

Our RE Curriculum, rooted and grounded in love for all, ensures a high-quality sequential religious education. It prepares all children for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of life in modern Britain. Central to our curriculum is Christianity as a living and diverse faith, focused on the teaching of Jesus and the Church. Weaved throughout our RE curriculum is a thread of diversity, ensuring children have the knowledge that communities are inclusive and to foster understanding and respect for a range of religions and worldviews.

Our RE curriculum will engage and challenge our children through an exploration of core concepts and questions. Pupils will be a part of meaningful and informed dialogue with a range of religions and worldviews and will have opportunities to understand the role of foundational texts, beliefs, rituals, and practices and how they help form identity in a range of religions and worldviews. Pupils will explore how these may change in different times, places and cultures. RE will go beyond a sociological study of religious phenomena and will introduce pupils to a range of relevant disciplines including theology, philosophy and the human and social sciences.

Life in all its fullness - a place to thrive.

We are rooted and grounded in love (Ephesians 3:17)

Through his Spirit, God comes to help us.

'Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can'.

Implementation

Teachers plan from the agreed long-term planning and our progression document which identifies key substantive knowledge and uses the disciplinary lenses of 'believing', 'living' and 'thinking' to scaffold learning". These are underpinned by the agreed Diocesan Syllabus. R.E. is taught in weekly discrete lessons. Teachers adapt the planning to best support the progression of pupils in their class, consulting with the subject leader if there is any major variation. Opportunities to positively reinforce learning through global or national events are used, through whole school focus and within the classroom. Lessons require pupils to develop their ability to analyse, evaluate and compare between their developing understanding and prior learning about religions and worldviews.

The FOG Learning Cycle ensures children know more and remember more - pupils get better at RE over time. It focuses on recall of prior knowledge, (connect), the teaching of new knowledge and skills (I do), modelling and scaffolding (we do) and independent, enquiry based learning (you do).

The following pages set out the content of the religious education curriculum at our school including our progression documents for substantive and disciplinary knowledge, including the key golden threads that run from EYFS to Year 6.

Our religious education curriculum follows the Leeds/York Diocesan Syllabus.

The aim of RE in Forest of Galtres Anglican Methodist Primary School

The principal aim of RE is to enable pupils to hold balanced and informed conversations about religion and worldviews.

This principal aim incorporates the following aims of Religious Education in Church schools.

To enable pupils:

- to know about and understand Christianity as a diverse global living faith through the exploration of core beliefs using an approach that critically engages with biblical text.
- to gain knowledge and understanding of a range of religions and worldviews appreciating diversity, continuity and change within the religions and worldviews being studied.
- to engage with challenging questions of meaning and purpose raised by human existence and experience.
- to recognise the concept of religion and its continuing influence on Britain's cultural heritage and in the lives of individuals and societies in different times, cultures and places.
- to explore their own religious, spiritual and philosophical ways of living, believing and thinking.

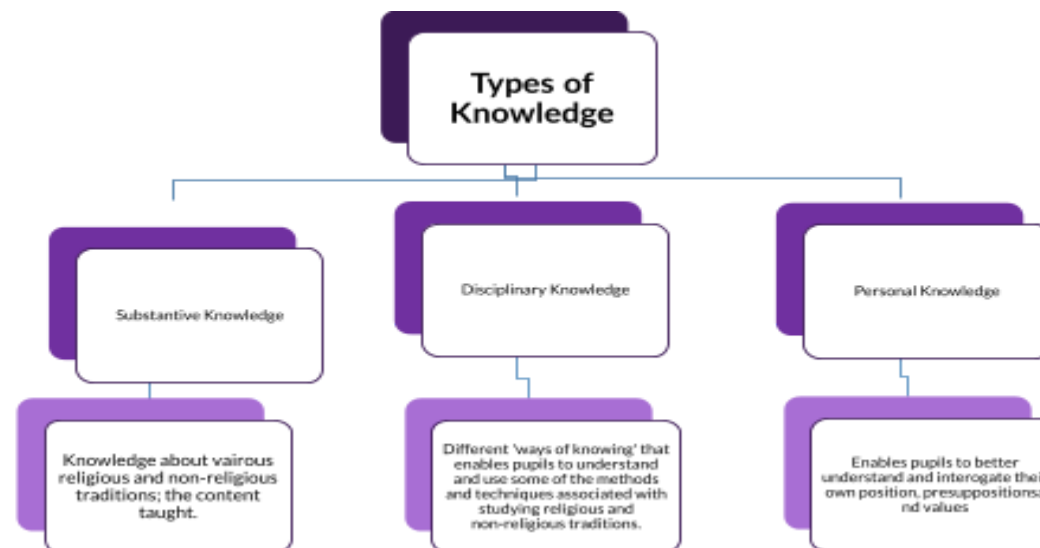

Appropriate to their age at the end of their education in Church schools, the expectation is that all pupils are religiously literate and, as a minimum, pupils are able to:

- Give a theologically informed and thoughtful account of Christianity as a living and diverse faith.
- Show an informed and respectful attitude to religions and non-religious worldviews in their search for God and meaning.
- Engage in meaningful and informed dialogue with those of other faiths and none.
- Reflect critically and responsibly on their own spiritual, philosophical and ethical convictions.

Skills in RE

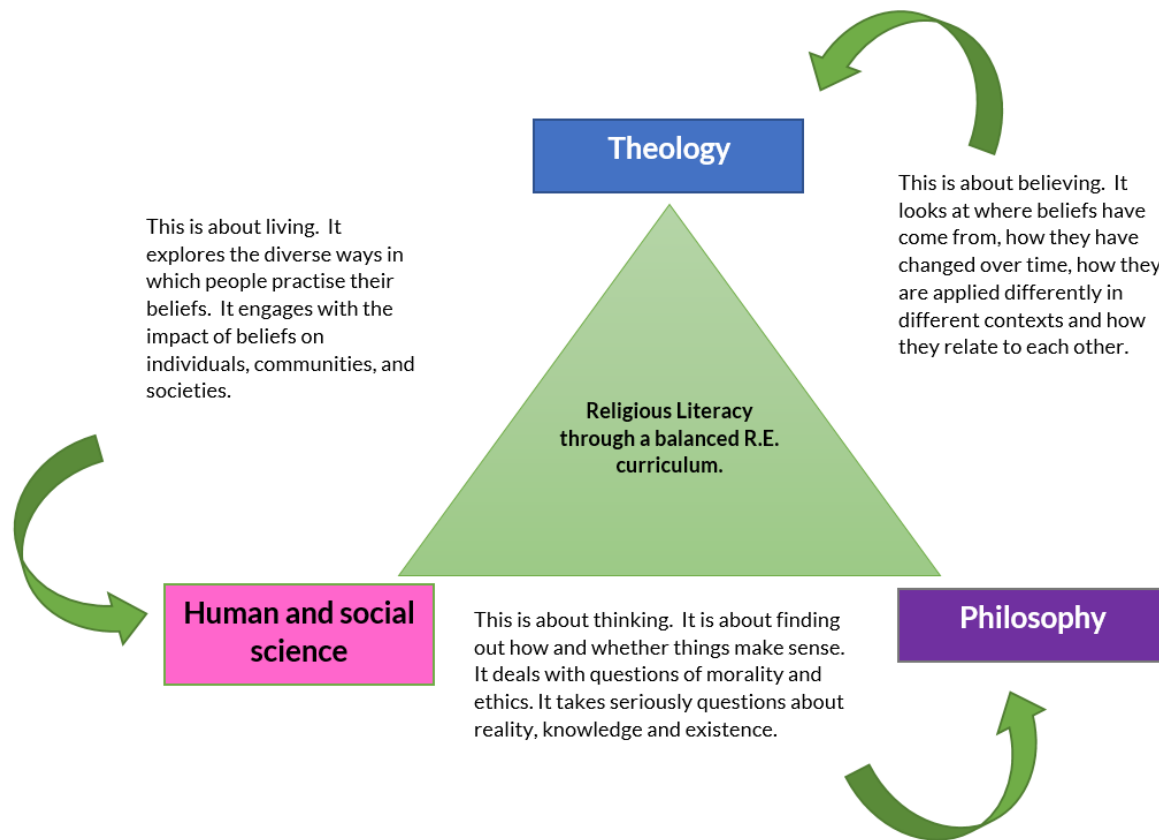

Pupils should develop key skills in RE in order to enhance learning and this should be evident across key stages:

1. Investigation and enquiry: asking relevant and increasingly deep questions; using a range of sources and evidence, including sacred texts; identifying and talking about key concepts.
2. Critical thinking and reflection: analysing information to form a judgement; reflecting on beliefs and practices, ultimate questions and experiences.
3. Empathy: considering the thoughts, feelings, experiences, attitudes, beliefs and values of others; seeing the world through the eyes of others.
4. Interpretation: interpreting religious language and the meaning of sacred texts; drawing meaning from, for example, artefacts and symbols.
5. Analysis: distinguishing between opinion, belief and fact; distinguishing between the features of different religions.
6. Evaluation: enquiring into religious issues and drawing conclusions with reference to experience, reason, evidence, and dialogue.

Disciplinary RE

These are the “lenses” we look through that help pupils develop specialised knowledge and specialised skills associated with R.E.

Golden Threads for RE

Christianity

One God who is a Trinity

God created the world and wants relationships with humans, but humans have damaged it (the Fall)

Jesus heals the damaged relationship between God and humans through his death, crucifixion and resurrection

The Bible is a key source of authority

Christians live out their beliefs in different ways.

Islam

One God

God wants humans to keep things in harmony and give them a straight path (shariah) to follow

There is guidance to help humans follow the straight path, including the Prophets

The Qur'an is a key source of authority for Muslims

Muslims live out their beliefs in different ways

Hinduism (KS2 only)

Brahman, the Ultimate Reality / Life Force

Atman (soul) – the bit of Brahman living in everything

Samsara, the cycle of birth, life, death, and rebirth that every atman is on

Moksha (liberation from samsara), the ultimate goal of every atman

The way to achieve moksha is for the atman to fulfil its dharma in every cycle of life

Hindus live out their beliefs in different ways.

I know that Christians believe that the Earth and everything in it are important to God. I know that Christians believe that God has a unique relationship with human beings. I know that Christians believe that humans should care for the world because it belongs to God. I know that Christians believe Jesus rose again, giving people hope of a new life. I know that Christians believe that Jesus is God and that he was born as a baby in Bethlehem. I know that the Bible points out that his birth showed that he was extraordinary (for example, he is worshipped as a king) and that he came to bring good news (for example, to the poor). I know that Christians celebrate Jesus' birth. I know that Advent for Christians is a time of getting ready for Jesus' coming. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I know Christians believe God is Trinity: Father, Son (Jesus) and Holy Spirit. I know that Christians believe that The Father creates: he sends the Son who saves his people; the Son sends the Holy Spirit to his followers. I know that Christians really want to try and understanding God better and so try to describe God using symbols, similes and metaphors, in song, story, poems and art. I know that Christians worship God as Trinity. It is a huge idea to grasp and Christians have created art to help to express this belief. I know that Christians believe getting to know God is like getting to know a person rather than learning information. Assessment

Our RE assessment system supports our pupils' journey through the curriculum. It is purposeful, meaningful and is used effectively to inform teaching and learning, ensuring children know more and remember more.

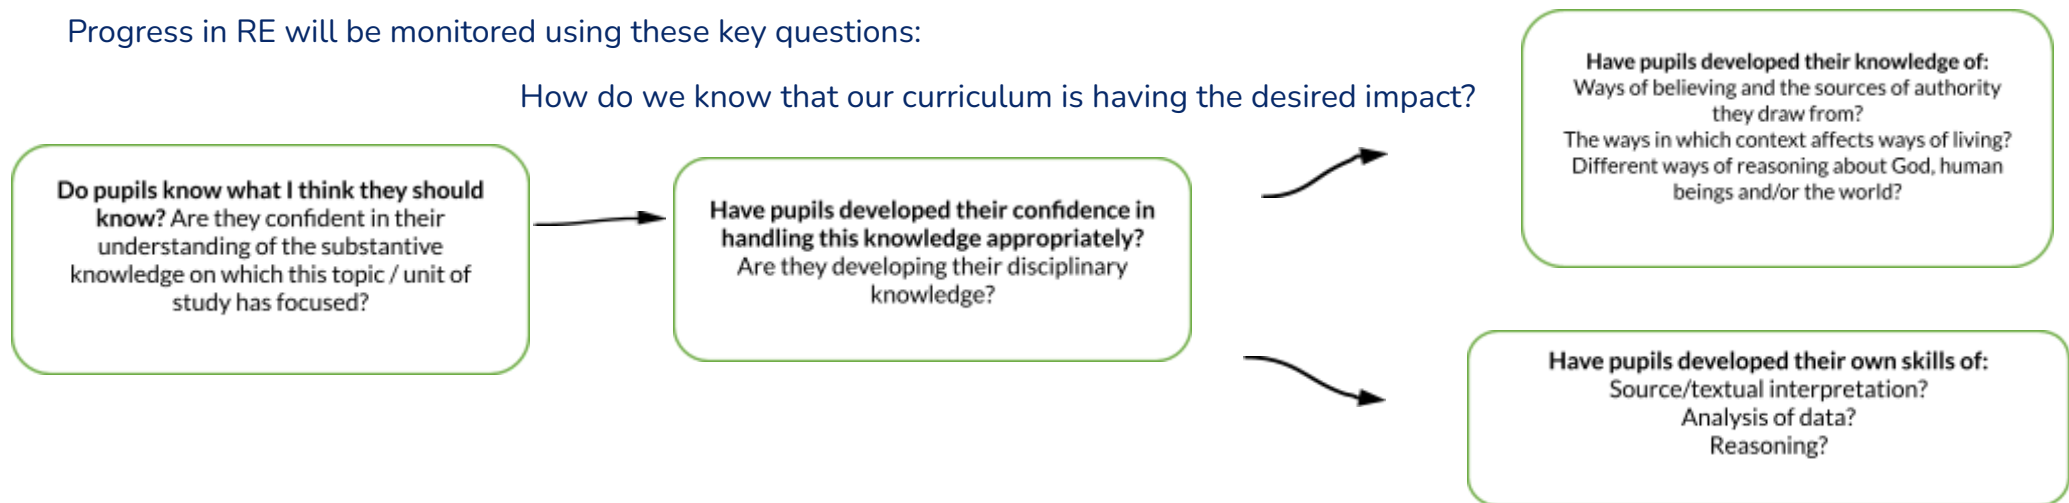

We use a range of strategies to elicit prior learning and misconceptions of a unit which will enable teachers to adapt short-term planning to include time to address areas of particular need. Teachers observe and respond to pupils during a lesson, offering verbal feedback and prompting deeper thinking using questioning for mastery. Teacher assessment is the foundation of our formative assessment and is undertaken in every lesson. Evidence based research informed strategies are adopted by class teachers to promote metacognition. These include the 'connect' part of the learning cycle, 'My turn, your Turn' (MTYT), Show me boards, effective questioning and feedback, pupil voice, low stakes quizzing, pupil's work and teacher's knowledge of each child. We recognise the underpinning cognitive processes of these tasks, and the application of literacy skills, in developing good revision strategies and skills for life beyond primary school. Ongoing teacher observation identifies pupil progress and attainment during lessons and enables learners to be challenged through response and feedback. We recognise the value of teacher observation and of a dialogic, language rich learning environment.

The formative assessment then leads to our summative assessments at the end of each year and then end of phase outcomes. The summative model within our agreed syllabus supports accountability and evidence towards the end of phase outcomes. Formative and Summative assessment is moderated internally and within our Trust Networks.

End of unit assessments

Progress in RE will be monitored using these key questions:

How do we know that our curriculum is having the desired impact?

Teachers

- Become more knowledgeable.
- Have higher levels of confidence in delivering all areas of the curriculum.
- Can give senior leaders and subject leads feedback about what is working well.
- Are acutely aware of how children are coping with the taught content. The curriculum is the progression model and is pitched to be appropriately challenging. Therefore, if teachers know that children are coping well and are able to demonstrate their understanding, then we know it is working and that children are making progress.
- Teach consistently well; applying sound pedagogical practices in all lessons.
- Plan coherent learning journeys based on the unit overviews.
- Seek support from subject leads when they are less confident.

Children

- Can talk with confidence about what they have learned, using correct terminology.
- Are enthused and interested in a wide range of curriculum areas.
- Can talk about the specific characteristics of subjects and the disciplines associated with them.
- Can show adults examples of their learning and describe the 'why' behind work they have produced.
- Demonstrate good learning behaviours in all lessons.
- Are able to explain how their learning within a subject builds on previous learning.
- Are able to make thoughtful links between subjects.
- Can all access, enjoy and make progress within the curriculum - regardless of their starting points, or any additional needs they may have.
- Are independent learners who can think creatively and critically

Children's Work

- Demonstrates that they take pride in what they produce. Children show the same effort as they would in Maths or English, for example.
- Captures their increasing understanding of key concepts within each subject.
- Illustrates their developing understanding of the disciplines of each subject, as well as the declarative knowledge content.
- Shows that a coherent teaching sequence has taken place within each unit of work.
- Demonstrates our curriculum's emphasis on subject-specific terminology.

Governors and Visitors

- Give us positive feedback about pupil engagement and behaviour in lessons.
- Comment on the high-quality work that they see.

- Report that leaders are clear about strengths and weaknesses and have clear plans to address areas for development.
- Report that 'seeing things in action' in agreed governor visits shows the extent to which our intent is being implemented effectively

Parents and carers

- Give us positive feedback about their children's attitudes to school.
- Share examples of when their children have been enthused by the curriculum (e.g. they have been talking about learning at home, or carrying out their own research because of their interest).

Leaders

- Develop subject leader expertise through coaching and CPD
- Are outward facing
- Source external expertise and support where needed
- Regularly monitor strengths and areas for development which feeds into school evaluation and improvement.
